Capability Statement

Standard Rubber Products Company (SRP) began as a vision on the West side of Chicago back in 1951. The company was founded with the goals of manufacturing the highest quality custom fabricated die-cut components and providing the best service possible. This promise has allowed the company to prosper for more than six decades. To meet the demands of a changing marketplace and growing economy over the years, we have expanded our manufacturing capabilities to be able to offer our customers more added value using state-of-the-art equipment. As we continue to upgrade and improve our equipment and processes, we are able to fulfill orders quicker and with cost effective advantages.
