

“Products Designed by Surgeons for Surgeons”

At Ascend Surgical Sales, LLC we partner with our customers to improve their clinical skills, practice performance and patient services through the use of advanced medical devices and technology. We accomplish this by distributing medical devices, provide specialty procedure accessories and clinical education services for physicians and staff throughout the United States, Canada and Mexico.

By partnering with our manufacturers, Ascend Surgical Sales, LLC fully supports the development of new technology to extend the use of the products in their respective markets. Ascend Surgical Sales, LLC distributes technology to the Surgical market, providing training and ancillary accessories. We will provide clinical education and support activities for new customers in a variety of settings and formats. Ascend Surgical Sales, LLC is also responsible for specialized clinical education in its markets, including clinical events, new procedure development and individualized training.
