Capability Statement

www.transitioningboystomen.org

Here at Transitioning Boys Into MEN, we believe that boys carry the seed. It is up to us as a community to make sure that the young men and their seeds grow into something useful to themselves, their families and their communities. We serve minorities, the underserved, and troubled youth.

We provide a variety of services to our student members and their families that include supplemental education, to close the gap between in school and out-of-school instruction. Tutoring for students and parents, we realize parents need help to keep up to date so that they are involved and informed about their child's progress.

We want our young men to know that they are a valuable asset to our families and communities with training programs in college prep, consumer economics, finance, access to college, higher education, careers, etiquettes, civil and community engagement.
